The Integration of the Deaf in Schools for the Normally Hearing

Clarence D. O'Connor, Superintendent, Lexington School for the Deaf

MOST parents of deaf children at some time or other give serious thought to the possibility of their child attending regular schools with normally hearing children. Members of the staff are frequently asked, "Can my child do this?" or "When will my child be ready to do this?" The answers to these questions are complex and call for careful thought. The decision to transfer a very deaf child from the slower-paced special program offered in a school for the deaf to the highly competitive regular program should not be made lightly, for one who is not equal to this challenge might suffer serious emotional damage through the trauma of repeated failure and rejection.

So that we might be better able to counsel parents who might seek our advice concerning this important question, we undertook a study a few years ago of some of the 50 pupils who had transferred from the Lexington School between 1954 and 1957 to public or private classes for the normally hearing. Our primary objectives in this study were to determine the degree of successful or unsuccessful adjustment in integrated programs and the factors influencing success or failure.

Eighteen transfers were finally selected for intensive study. The principal and the teacher in the school each pupil was attending as well as the pupil's parents were interviewed. In addition, each of the 18 pupils was given the following tests at the school:

Psychometric Test (WISC)

Hearing Test (Standard pure tone audiometry)

Achievement Test (Stanford)

Personality Inventory (Brunschwig)

The tests and the interviews indicated the following concerning the 18 pupils under study:

1. The Stanford Achievement Tests given to the 18 pupils showed that they generally divided into two groups as far as achievement is concerned. Twelve in Group A were close to the norm for their age level, being only approximately four months behind regular children on the average. However, six of these 12 were achieving better than average for hearing children. Six in Group B averaged about three and a half years behind children of their particular age level.

2. Both parents and teachers tended to overrate the pupil's academic achievement in comparison to scores obtained on the Stanford tests, the ratings of parents being even more optimistic than the teachers'.

3. Generally, those in Group A had higher I.Q.'s than those in B. The range for nine of the 12 in A was 120-132.

4. Those in Group A generally had more useful hearing than those in Group B, the average speech range loss for the former being 79 db compared with 85 db for Group B.

5. Parent, teacher and pupil interviews and the Brunschwig personality inventory revealed in general that pupils in Group A were more willful, tenacious, attentive and had outgoing personalities, while those in Group B tend toward being followers and day-dreamers, lacking self-confidence and initiative.

6. Those doing best in both groups were with teachers who had adjusted the program to meet the needs of the hearing-handicapped members of the class, such as speaking more slowly, writing more often, arranging for classmate help, and other changes.

7. The presence in the school of a counselor for the hearing-handicapped resulted in higher achievement and better social adjustment for the hearing-handicapped pupils in attendance.

What we learned from our intensive study of these 18 pupils tended to reinforce the possibilities of deaf children moving through an educational program geared to the normally hearing. These are:

1. That, with very few exceptions children who begin life with an average speech-range hearing loss of 60-70 db or more cannot successfully or comfortably integrate educationally with hearing children at the age of five or six. They need the specialized program of a school for the deaf for a number of years, at least, in order to acquire facility in the use of language, without which they would be hopelessly lost in regular classes.

2. That the percentage of pupils in a school for the deaf who are logical candidates for

A class for deaf students at Riverside City College will be inaugurated this fall as a result of a proposal originating with Dr. Richard G. Brill, Superintendent of the California School for the Deaf. A great deal of planning was carried on by members of the staff of Riverside City College and the California School for the Deaf before the proposal was submitted to the Riverside Board of Education for adoption.

A qualified teacher of the deaf who can interpret manually will be added to the staff of the junior college. This instructor will interpret the basic English, history and health courses which are required of all candidates for an A.A. degree. In addition he will act as a liaison between the deaf students and their vocational instructors.

It is anticipated there will be about ten deaf students in the program this fall. As the program grows, the ratio of a special instructor for each ten deaf students will be kept.

This program is designed for those who can benefit from further education, but who will take vocational majors in a two year college.

Deaf students who can benefit from a liberal arts program in a four year college will continue to be encouraged to go to Gallaudet College.

New Unit May be Added to CSDR

Senator Walter Stiern, (D.) Bakersfield, recently introduced a bill in the state legislature proposing a $1,706,000 addition to the School for the Deaf, Riverside. The addition would consist of a unit which would be used for the diagnosis and education of children who have other handicaps as well as deafness.

According to Dr. Richard G. Brill, the proposed appropriation would provide for more than half of the facilities which will eventually be needed. The present legislation would supply the new unit for multiply-handicap children with two 20 - classroom buildings, six cottage-type dormitories, an office-clinic, a multi-purpose building and a dining room addition. These facilities would accommodate 100 pupils. The unit would be constructed on the 13 acres of school land adjacent to the present school plant.

Whether or not the bill will be passed through the various phases of legislation this fiscal year is still in doubt. However, if it is passed, construction will begin in 1962.

Research Foundation Establishes Temporal Bone Bank

The Deafness Research Foundation is an organization devoted to sponsoring research in the field of hearing and to developing greater public awareness of the problems of the deaf. The Foundation, whose headquarters are in New York City, was founded in 1958 as a national voluntary organization and has the support and approval of The American Laryngological, Rhinological and Otological Society, Inc., The American Otological Society, Inc., and The American Medical Assn.

A Temporal Bone Bank program is now being promoted by the Foundation and anyone who is interested in the details of this program or about the Foundation may write to: ultimate educational integration in classes for the hearing is small. The vast majority will need the benefit of the specialized program of the school for the deaf throughout their entire educational career.

3. That no pupil should be transferred to regular classes until he has developed communication ability that will make it possible for him to meet the severe competitive conditions he will experience therein. This means that, in general, he will not be ready for such transfer before the age of eight or nine.

4. That a careful assessment of the following factors that will affect the success of his ultimate integration be made for each pupil for whom a transfer to regular classes is being considered:

(a) His Age

We have found that the majority of our pupils who are ready for integration do not reach this point before the age of eight or nine. If they have been through our nursery and preschool classes and if all other factors are favorable, they may then be mature enough to meet the challenge of the new regime.

(b) His Communication Ability

At best a hearing-handicapped child moving from a school for the deaf to regular classes will be far behind hearing children in his ability to use and understand language. He should, however, have ability to communicate expressively through speech and writing, and receptively through reading and lip-reading supported by the most effective possible use of his residual hearing with sufficient skill to be able to articulate with and become an effectively functioning member of the regular class. If his use of language is not securely established, even within narrow limits when compared to his hearing peers, then he is not ready for transfer. His reading level should be at least at the national norm for his age.

(c) His Intelligence

This is one of the most critical factors for successful integration. Children with marginal ability and a relatively severe hearing loss have little chance of achieving satisfactorily in regular classes. This will be difficult enough for those with better than average ability. Accordingly, he should have an I.Q. of 110 or over.

(d) His Personality Make-Up

The hearing-handicapped child frequently must take a lot of emotional buffing-about in regular classes. He must be prepared for repeated even though only temporary failure through not always understanding what is being discussed. He must also be prepared for unintended neglect at times on the part of his teacher or social rejection by his classmates. The tougher his emotional fibre the more successfully he may over-ride these road blocks. A timid, sensitive, hearing - handicapped youngster who lacks confidence or does not have the strength to fight back may be emotionally chopped to pieces in an integrated situation to the extent that he may find himself more segregated in the so-called "normal" program than he was in the so-called "abnormal special school segregation" program from which he was "liberated."

(e) The Program to Which He Will Be Transferred

The degree to which the staff in the pupil's future regular program is oriented to the special needs of a hearing-handicapped pupil is vastly important. The capacity of a teacher to make simple management adjustments in the pupil's classroom environment and program will affect his entire achievement pattern.

(f) His Parents

The differential that frequently is the most important factor influencing successful integration is the pupil's parents. How well are they oriented to the problems he will face and to his overall needs?

How much help and guidance can they be relied upon to give their child at home? The answers to these questions are important in arriving at a decision concerning transfer.

(g) Guidance and Follow-up

Once the decision has been made to transfer a pupil to a regular class, conferences should be set up with the parents and the staff of the school to which he will be transferred. The creation of a favorable educational, social, and emotional climate for the pupil is essential. Similar followup conferences should be arranged after the pupil has been transferred. One final word concerning this question.

As appealing as integration may be to parents who have every right to hope that some day their deaf child might attend his neighborhood school with his hearing brothers and sisters, it might be that such a program is not logical for him. If so, this should be accepted realistically. More than that, if a transfer is tried and the child is not adjusting satisfactorily, parents should have the courage and wisdom to return the child to the school for the deaf. Above all, continue to seek the counsel of those who also love your child and who hold dear to their hearts his happiness and well being.—Reprinted from Lexington School for the Deaf Parents Newsletter, June 1960.

Lower School Variety Show

Lower School presented its annual Rhythm Program in the form of a variety show. Every child in the department participated.

The performance was given twice, once Thursday afternoon, March 16, for the students in other departments and again on Friday afternoon, March 17, for the parents of Lower School children. Both performances were well attended.

The committee for planning the program included Mrs. Iolla Gates, Chairman, Miss Nancy Keim, Miss Sarah Harper Abernethy and Mrs. Annette Young. Each teacher in the department directed the act presented by her class.

Cabinetmaking

The boys in Cabinetmaking and Upholstery are working on 25 new television stools which will be used in the dormitories. Frank Almandarez and David Strange are doing excellent work upholstering chairs and sofas for the dormitories.

Business Arts

Since IBM has just recently opened a new division in Riverside, some of the senior girls in the Business Arts class took advantage of the opportunity to take aptitude tests offered by that firm as an admission requisite for free instruction in key punch operation at their Los Angeles branch. Three of the girls passed the test—Sonia Kracer, Darlene Jones and Etta Smith. We hope some of them will be able to attend the school late next summer and that other girls will be able to follow in their footsteps in the future.

Homemaking

Spring is a busy time in the Homemaking room. The second year classes are busy planning and preparing noon luncheons. Each meal is planned to meet the Basic Four requirements as well as to provide a colorful and tasty meal. A different method of serving the meal is used each week. The girls use buffet, family and formal style of service. The foods unit will end with a supper party at which each girl will invite one guest. An Hawaiian theme will be carried out with dinner served on mats with the girls and guests sitting on the floor. A good time is expected by all.

The year will close with the study of child care. Special attention is placed on children between the ages of 2 and 6. There will be many tips to help baby sitters. One day the girls will have a play school for pre-school children from 8:30 A.M. to 12:30 P.M. during which time they will observe 15 pre-school children in a variety of activities.

Fashion Show

On March 31 the Vocational Department presented its annual fashion show. The three acts were set in a Spanish Fiesta theme. The first act presented girls on their way to see a bullfight. They wore gay cotton dresses and sport clothes. Dale Ice took tickets from the girls as they entered the arena. Act Two found the girls leaving the bullfight scene and walking down through the audience. The third act was a Fiesta street scene featuring a trio of Flamenco dancers — Judy Tamez, Sonia Kracer and Yolanda Graza. The program closed with a colorful folk dance presented by a group of Intermediate School boys and girls.

Art Student Enters Post Contest

In the annual international poster contest sponsored by the Latham Foundation for Humane Education, Robert Coats won the scholarship award in the Helen Mackay Memorial division. He has started a 3-year correspondence course in Technical Illustration with the Art Instruction School of Minneapolis. The course is worth four hundred dollars, but will be free of charge to Bob. Two years ago Molly Merritt, now a student at Gallaudet College, also won a scholarship in the contest.

Bob Coats designed the cover for this issue of the Palms.

Hunter and Fitz-Henry in Picture

Recently Chris Hunter and Orlin Fitz-Henry appeared in a picture printed in the Citro-Crafter, a publication of the Citrus Belt Printing House Craftmen's Club. They were contestants in the letterhead and envelope printing contest and won invitation to participate in the club banquet.

Ray's Birthday Party

Ray Butler had a birthday party in our room March 27. Mrs. Stephens put a tablecloth on the table. She brought Ray's birthday cake from Mrs. Tennis' office.

After a while we came back from P.E. We looked at the birthday cake. Mrs. Stephens put eleven candles on the cake and we lit them.

We sang, "Happy Birthday to you."

Mrs. Stephen spanked Ray. Ray blew out the candles.

Mrs. Stephens cut the cake. She put the cake on the plates. Ray passed the plates.

Mrs. Stephens poured the punch. Mary passed the cups. We said, "Thank you." Then we ate the cake.

Mary Winter danced for us at the party. She had brought a grass skirt and two leis to class. She put on the grass skirt and the leis and danced a hula. We clapped. We had fun.

Mrs. Tennis gave us three new arithmetic aids. One is a counting board; one is an abacus; and one is a "plate of fruit" for fraction work.

We worked the abacus last Monday. We counted by 5's and 10's. We drew one half of a pear, one third of an apple and one fourth of an orange. We worked with the counting board. We counted by 1's and 2's and 3's.

Spring Fun

We made a spring poster for our room. Most of the children made plants out of paper and cut out letters. Danny Briones drew and cut out a sprinkling can, drops of water and the sun. I made daffodils. Danny and I put the pictures and the letters on the poster. The poster says: Plants need sun, water and soil.

The teachers had a Round the World party for us this term. We went to the social hall at 7:00 o'clock. The teachers pinned the name of a country on each of us. We looked at posters and dolls from all parts of the world. There were many, many dolls. We played country bingo, a spelling game and cootie. I won the bingo game and the cootie game.

For refreshments we had cherry turnovers and hot chocolate with little marshmallows in it. We danced after we ate. I had a lot of fun. We went back to our dorm at 9 o'clock.

Imaginary Stories

I am a pair of shoes. When I was new, I lived in Tinney's Shoe Store. David looked at me, but he said that he didn't have any money and that he would work hard in the lumber camp and would come back and buy me. I was very happy. A month later David came back and bought me. He wore me to a party the next Saturday.

Danny Cisneros

I am an old pencil. I lived in the store for a long time. Betsy saw me and said, "I am sorry for you because you are old." So she bought me. It made me happy when she took me home with her and showed me to her mother. Her mother was surprised because I looked so old. Betsy took me to school the next day and wrote her arithmetic with me. She got 100%.

A Shopping Center

Class L went to the Riverside Plaza in March. We looked at the many different kinds of stores.

We saw dress shops, shoe stores, a candy shop, a toy store, a drug store, a beauty shop, a barber shop, a supermarket, a department store, a restaurant, a photography shop, a dry cleaner, jewelry stores, a flower shop, a hardware store, variety stores, a bakery and a juice bar.

We went into the juice bar and had an Orange Julius drink. Then we came back to school. Now we know more about the different kinds of stores.

The Butterfly

On Monday, March 9, I brought a caterpillar to school. We put it in a jar and covered the jar with some paper so the caterpillar couldn't run away. We gave it some leaves to eat.

The next day the caterpillar spun a cocoon.

On March 24 a butterfly came out of the cocoon. Mrs. Dion showed it to all of us. Then she left the butterfly fly away.

I was surprised that a caterpillar could change into a butterfly in just sixteen days!

A Trip

Our class took a trip downtown to see the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A.

The people were very nice and showed us around the buildings.

At the Y.W.C.A. we saw a swimming pool, a gym, exercise rooms and places for girls and women to work on hobbies.

At the Y.M.C.A. a man showed us a swimming pool, two gyms, club rooms and a dining room. We were surprised that men may get a room and live at the Y.M.C.A.

We drove by the Riverside Settlement House. Children that live near this place may go there for fun.

We understand more about our community now. We are studying about communities in our Social Studies.

Catching Birds

One day this spring I made a trap out of wire. I also made a bird cage. I put some bread in the trap because I wanted to catch some birds. I caught two black birds. I put them into the cage.

My friend, Richard, came to my house to see me that day. He opened the cage and the birds got away. I was disappointed because I wanted the birds for pets.

Senior Autobiographies

Salute to Our Seniors

The time is fast approaching when you will be leaving us. You will leave behind more than just pictures in a book; you will leave us with memories of happy and sad occasions, of work well done and of the character you have acquired.

This character is largely based on what you say and what you do. How we respond to others through our environment is largely a matter of habit. You have been accumulating these habits one by one during the time you have been in school and at home. Once a pattern of speech or action is formed it is likely to become a habit.

A philosopher once said, "It seems, in fact, as though the second half of a man's life is made up of nothing but the habits he has accumulated during the first half." Your teachers, counselors and parents have attempted to instill in you a knowledge of good habits. Perhaps when a bad habit has been pointed out to you, you have said that you would forget it or get rid of it when you graduated. Habits are not so easily thrown off. Let us hope that as you face a new and challenging world that your bad habits have been left far behind and that only those that will assist you in your adjustment will go with you.

Our best wishes for happiness and highest hopes for your success go with you.

Bobbi Hutcheson and Ramborger Brothers in Deaf Olympics

Every four years outstanding deaf athletes from all over the world meet to compete in the International Games for the Deaf, more popularly called the "Deaf Olympics." This year the ninth of such meets will be in Helsinki, Finland, in August.

Of the approximate 100 deaf athletes from the United States, three are students at the California School for the Deaf, Riverside. Bill Ramborger, Dick Ramborger, and Bobbi Hutcheson are the young people who will join the Olympic team.

Bobbi Hutcheson, from Compton, will participate in the women's doubles, the mixed doubles and single events in the tennis portion of the Olympics. The Ramborger brothers, from Redlands, will compete in the javelin throw and Bill will act as a substitute in the high and low hurdle events.

The Olympic group will meet at Gallaudet College in Washington, D.C. in July to train just prior to leaving for Europe. The entire team will fly to Europe and following the competition, they will tour parts of Europe before flying home.

Wrestling

A very successful and gratifying wrestling season was concluded at CSDR this February. Mr. Reel and Mr. Gray wish to express their thanks to all the boys that took part in the program.

This season saw a great deal of progress made toward the ultimate goal of a wrestling team that can compete with other schools. As a result of the interest and enthusiasm shown by the boys, and their willingness to work hard, a good "foundation" of wrestling knowledge has been established. As a result of this "foundation" it is hoped that future years will see wrestling take its rightful place in the sports picture here at CSDR.

Baseball News

CSDR's baseball team has lost five games. The boys seem to be improving, however, and their record so far shows three winning scores.

We have a fine pitcher in Dave Thordsen. He has done very well. Mark McCrory is learning to play catcher and is working hard to become expert. All of the boys are trying to become better hitters because they know we cannot win without runs.

Junior-Senior Activities

The Class of 1962 has worked hard all year to earn money for the class fund. Some of the fund raising activities were: selling candy at recess; having candy available in the teachers' and counselors' lounge; selling refreshments at Riverside City College games, at our own home games and at the Air Show; and selling canisters of candy and boxes of stationery. The Class of 1963 now has the privilege of earning money for their class fund.

The Class of 1962 has become larger and now has a total of forty-two members. Since the class was formed in April, 1960, the following students have been added:

Mercy Acuna	Judy Hubbs
Connie Bates	Bobbi Hutcheson
Susan Courtney	Cynthia Jandle
Don McCary	Bill Ramborger
Josette Olivas	Don Silvers
Eduardo Perdomo	Larry Stump
Mickey Cox	David Thordsen
Donald Graham	Jerriann Welch
Butch Gongaware

Others have been placed for the class rings. Sometime next September the members of this class will be able to show off their rings.

The boys and girls are now busy with the plans for the Junior-Senior dance to be held May 27.

We hope that the Class of 1963 will have as much luck in their fund raising endeavors.

Time is drawing nearer for the seniors to embark upon activities that they have envied and looked forward to for so very long.

First on the schedule is a two day trip beginning on May 4 to the picturesque island of Santa Catalina. Transportation across the beautiful blue Pacific will be on the big white steamship, "S.S. Catalina." Upon arrival "fun" will be the password of the day. There are boat trips, horseback riding, sightseeing tours, hikes, swimming, sunbathing and many other activities available.

Returning on May 5, the following day, if met by a parent at the dock, each tired but happy senior may go home for the weekend to recuperate and doctor his sunburn.

On June 1 the Senior Program will be presented at 7:45 P.M. in the Social Hall. A two act play, the class prophecy and the last will and testament will be revealed. Also during the program the seniors will present a gift to the school and dedicate their yearbook, The Scarlet and Gray. Then it will not be too long until many cases of writer's cramps will begin appearing around school due to signing autographs.

Anyone who wants to receive The Scarlet and Gray should send a one dollar donation with his name and address to Miss Helen Arbuthnot in care of CSDR. Copies will be mailed sometime in June.

Finally comes one of the most precious moments of the lives of the seniors, the Commencement Program at 8:00 P.M., on June 7. Sonia Kracer will give the salutatory followed by Donna Carpenter who will deliver the valedictory. We feel quite fortunate in having Mr. S. W. Patterson, Assistant Chief, Division of Special School and Services of the State Department of Education, to address the graduating class, their parents and friends.

Faculty Marriages

Miss E. Page Stratton became the bride of Mr. Edward Barber on April 4, 1961. Mrs. Barber teaches in the Vocational Department at CSDR.

Mrs. Betty Tyndale and Mr. John D. Howard were married on April 15, 1961. Mrs. Howard is a teacher in Intermediate School.

Class of 1962 Express Appreciation

The class of 1962 is winding up its financial business this month. We owe a great deal of thanks to the teachers who helped at the concession stands at the Riverside City College games and at the Air Show.

We especially want to thank those parents who contributed their time and energy in supplying us with home-made cookies, brownies and cup cakes, which were sold at the games held at the school for the deaf.

It was nice of all these people to donate their time and services to the Junior Class.

The Book Shelf

Cross My Heart by Naomi John Sellers

CROSS MY HEART is about Kathy Barnum, a pretty seventeen year old high school senior, Chuck, who turned Kathy's heart upside down, and Faye, the popular one who had to be boss.

Kathy had admired Chuck in high school and finally met him at a girls' club party. He influenced her to study journalism and to work on the high school paper.

They had many dates during their senior year. On graduation night Chuck asked Kathy to go away with him and get married. He was not interested in going to college and he didn't want Kathy to go. However, Kathy was determined to go to college and realized that she was too young for marriage.

Now Kathy understood the need in her life for someone who was stronger than she and who also knew what was right, and who could help her when she lost the way herself.

The book was interesting for teenagers and was never boring because it was about us and our problems.

Joan Hersh, Class H

Fifteen by Beverly Cleary

This story is about Jane Purdy who is fifteen years old.

Jane earned extra money by baby sitting. She was often called to stay with a spoiled little girl named Sandra. One day while she was at Sandra's house, she met a boy named Stan who was delivering horse meat for Sandra's dog.

Stanley asked Jane for a date, but she had to ask her parents for permission. They thought she was too young to date, but she pleaded and pleaded and they finally consented. Stan and Jane went out together several times and they liked each other.

Then one day Stan had an appendix operation and Jane took him a "get-well" bouquet of flowers. She met his mother and younger sister. After Stan got well, he gave Jane his identification bracelet and asked her to go steady with him.

I enjoyed the book because it was about someone close to my own age and I like to read fiction.

Adriene Cleva, Class G

Abraham Lincoln by McConnell

The story of Abraham Lincoln is that of a man who worked the earth. He was a gentle man; yet he left a shining imprint on the pages of our history. It is a story that never grows old.

Abraham Lincoln was born on February 12, 1809. When he was a young boy, his family moved to the Knob Creek farm. On the farm he helped his parents work. He did not earn any money helping his mother and father.

Abe went to school and read everyday. He helped his mother and father but always read after work. He read the Holy Bible, the poems of Shakespeare and Aesop's Fables. Weem's History of George Washington opened up a whole world to Abe's eager mind.

Abe liked to make speeches and tell jokes as he went about building houses and helping neighbors. Everybody liked him.

Abe became a lawyer and helped many people. Sometimes he did not get money for helping people. He liked to help people. Abe became very famous and was elected President of the United States.

Rubidoux I

Fred Sanchez visited Mike Shannon on the Shannon family's new River-side ranch. The boys had lots of fun sleeping in the house trailer which serves as a temporary home while the ranch house is being built.

We are all sorry David McKee lost his beloved dog "Penny" by poisoning. Only a very bad person would poison another person's pet.

Rubidoux I boys went to San Dimas Park on the week-end their Boy Scout trip to Mount Palomar was cancelled. Plenty of hot dogs and plenty of soft ball made a wonderful day. Those who went were: Danny Briones, Charles Caruso, Stephen Cook, Larry Cordero, Fred Francis, Mario Garcia, Douglas Hale, Dale Kamerer, Jesus Loera, Jerry Marquez, Mike Rojas, Tony Ruiz, David Schiff, Stephen Sclaro, Jerome Stedry, Phillip Vasquez, Clyde Vincent, Robert Young and Fernando Zaldivar. Richard Hastings and Dennis Bridwell missed the trip because they were at home sick.

Rubidoux II

The girls in Rubidoux II welcomed two new girls, Donna Imburgia and Mary Winter. Both girls seem to enjoy being part of our Rubidoux II family.

Rubidoux II girls have been enjoying their own plays. The living room was the stage. They gave a "A Wedding," "Rumpelstiltskin" and a "Rythmn Band." There were three band leaders, Kathy Kutscher, Beverly Goldsberry and Patty Burrell. The girls in the band were Rebecca Cahhal, Charlotte Corona, Diane Elkins, Linda

Pachappa III

Kerstein, Cindy Roberts, Carole Solley, Dianne Ward, Carol Tufts, Alana Nunn and Joanne Miller. Kathy Graven and Janice Hallmark were in the band too, but had to go home because they were ill.

Rubidoux III

All the Girl Scouts of Troop 337 enjoyed attending the Indio Date Festival on March 25. Shara Eberhardt was among those who especially enjoyed the Spook House. Marlena Rosendahl, Diane Delgrollice, Maria Loera and Linda Parker each brought dishes back to school which they had won at various booths. Karen Thompson should be named our most fearless girl as she rode on all the fastest and most upside down rides.

Pachappa I

Ralph Sanchez, Ronnie Bryan, Eddie Chavez, Lynn Struble and the counselors spent part of Saturday at Fairmont Park. They had fun feeding the ducks. The boys saw a peacock.

Eddie Chavez visited with Ricky Myhre a weekend in March. They had fun at the zoo.

The boys are always happy to see Mr. Harkey with his camera. We have pictures on the bulletin board of Todd Brown, Lance Nunn, Stephen Turner, Mark Gentry and Chris Groves, which Mr. Harkey has taken.

Pachappa II

All the boys in Pachappa II were happy to be in the rhythm program in the Social Hall on St. Patrick's Day. Each number was nicely done and it was fun to see which part our boys would have in the program.

Several of our boys have had the measles. Mike Miller went to Sunnymead last weekend to visit Mrs. Zelewsky. He picked things to eat from her garden.

The hamster that Don Cogswell's mother gave us is growing fast.

Carol Vickroy visited Death Valley with her family. They all slept in a trailer. Carol brought back many interesting rocks.

Janet Harbert has a new baby brother. He was born March 1, and his name is Michael Lee Dalton.

Barbara Torres visited Hedy Udkovich over the weekend. Hedy's parents took the girls to Knott's Berry Farm. They rode on the old time train and went into the gold mining tunnel.

Lassen I

The boys in Lassen I eagerly watch the monthly rating chart. Quite a few have "Good" records with no bad marks. As the end of school comes closer we wonder who will receive the awards for the two best boys in Lassen I

The points the boys are graded on are: Behavior, dependability, attitude, neatness, participation, work habits, respect and general co-operation

At this writing the top boys are Pat Bybee, Jackie Long, Jack Lamberton, Ronnie Scolaro, Lewis Vance, Howard Sultan and Joe Sergi. John Daigle came to the dorm in November so has not been here the full year. Many others have shown great improvement. Some of these are Micky Pohl, Dennis Wiley, Rudy Villa and John Segafredo.

Lassen II

A group of Lassen II boys was taken on a picnic hike by the counselors one Saturday morning. They walked to the La Mitas. These are little mountains about two miles from our school.

It was decided everyone would climb the mountain before lunch. Mr. Barnett and the boys climbed all of the way to the top of the mountain. They could see the Plaza and downtown Riverside from there.

The boys who went on the hike were

Mrs. Stowers and Mr. Barnett accompanied the boys.

During the last month the girls of Shasta III and IV organized four softball teams with Sue Jacobs, Judy Tamez, Alice Sargent and Evelyn Brown as their captains. The two teams that win the most games are to be given a party with the two losing teams as hostesses. The party will be held on the Shasta IV patio and ice cream, cake and punch will be served.

Frank Longbotham, with his family and girl friend, went fishing 70 miles beyond Tijuana, Mexico, and then went shopping in Tijuana on March 19.

Charles Marsh was Clair Benham's guest at his home in Santa Ana over the weekend of March 17. Rumor has it that both boys ate 5 hamburgers each, followed by many milk shakes at one time and they suffered no ill effects!

The bowling team, consisting of Marilyn Nitchman, Pandy Thorsell, Dennis Kaufman and Derry Keeshan, beat the team of Jean Jones, Joan Hersh, Mickey Cox and Frank Longbotham in a play-off for second place by just 7 pins the afternoon of March 22. The winning teams will receive trophies in the very near future.

Palomar III

Eddie Roger's dream has come true. He finally has the opportunity to live in the dormitory on campus. He moved into Palomar III in March. Eddie is overjoyed and he loves the dormitory life already.

Some of our boys in the Boy Scout Troop were very disappointed when their camping trip was cancelled in March. This is the second time in a row this has happened. They are hoping for better luck next time.

Intermediate School Program

A group of forty-six students from Intermediate School presented a program of songs and dances at Palm School the night of February 23 and at Monroe School on March 16. The choral group offered patriotic, old favorite and popular songs. They gave some of their favorite basketball yells, led by their own cheerleaders, Yvonne Hunt, Sharon Russell, Laura Dinndorf, Pat Moran and Sue Jacobs. There was a demonstration of ballroom dancing by three couples and a lively Mexican dance performed by six couples. The choral group and dance were directed by Mrs. Nadine Schneider. Miss Ruth Clements was the piano accompanist. The cheerleaders were under the direction of Mrs. Betty Howard. Miss Alyce Thomas, the supervising teacher of Intermediate School, was present to introduce the program.
